THE WÜRTH GROUP

The same driving forces that fueled the growth of the Würth Group in the past continue to inspire us today: agility, entrepreneurship, and innovation.

Adolf Würth GmbH & Co. KG was founded in the city of Künzelsau by Adolf Würth. After his passing in 1954, his son Reinhold Würth took over the company, transforming a small screw business into a global group of companies with annual sales of approximately EUR 20.7 billion in 2025.

Today, more than 400 companies in 80 countries form the Würth Group, supported by over 86,000 employees worldwide, of which approximately 44,000 work within the Sales Network. The product range for trade and industry includes more than 125,000 items, such as screws, accessories, processing materials, anchors, tools, chemical products, and personal protective equipment, divided across the Automotive, Cargo, Metal, Maintenance, Woodworking, Construction, and Retail divisions.

The Würth Group's allied companies, operating in business areas adjacent to the group's core activities, complement the product portfolio with shop equipment, electrical installation materials, electronic components, and financial services.

Its international network of companies ensures close contact with more than 4 million customers worldwide. Competence, quality, and customer proximity are the foundations of the Würth Group's activities.
